

Adventure Kit

for "The Little Seed Who Didn't Know It Was a Tree"

A quiet invitation to wonder — for little ones and their grown-ups

Colour the seed, the sprout, and the tree — and imagine how it felt to grow

Plant a seed of your own — in a cup, a pot, or a patch of earth

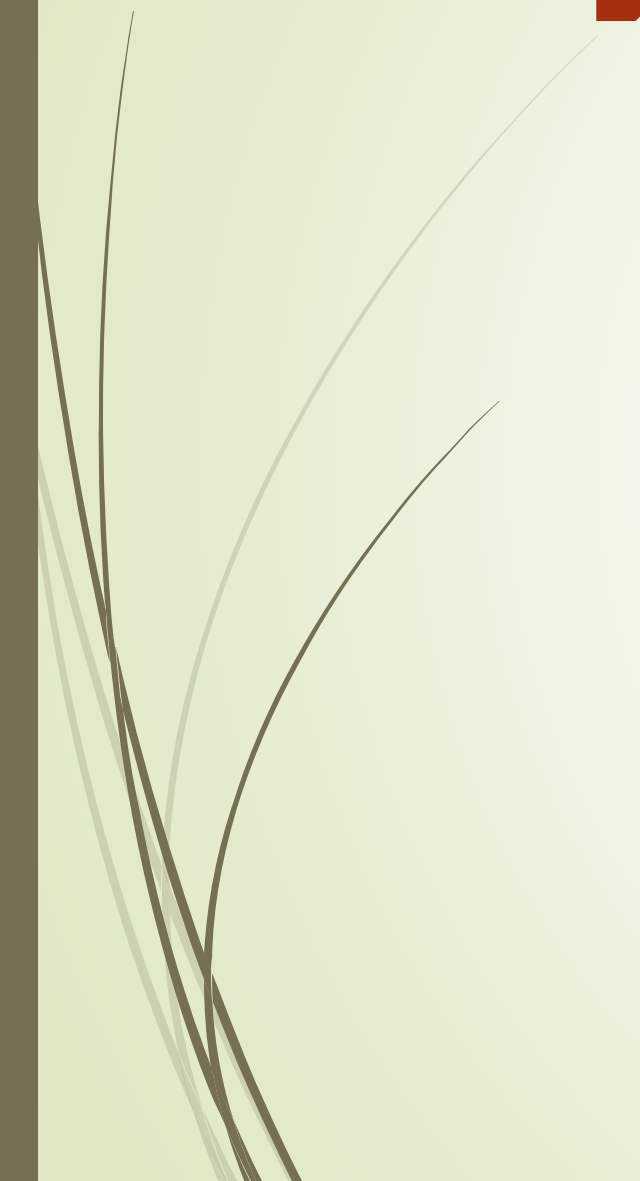

- ▶ Watch it grow. Draw what you see each week. What does it need to grow strong? Sunlight, water, patience — just like the little seed in the story.

A Question to Wonder About

- What do you think the seed dreamed about while it was still in the dark?

I am growing, just like the seed

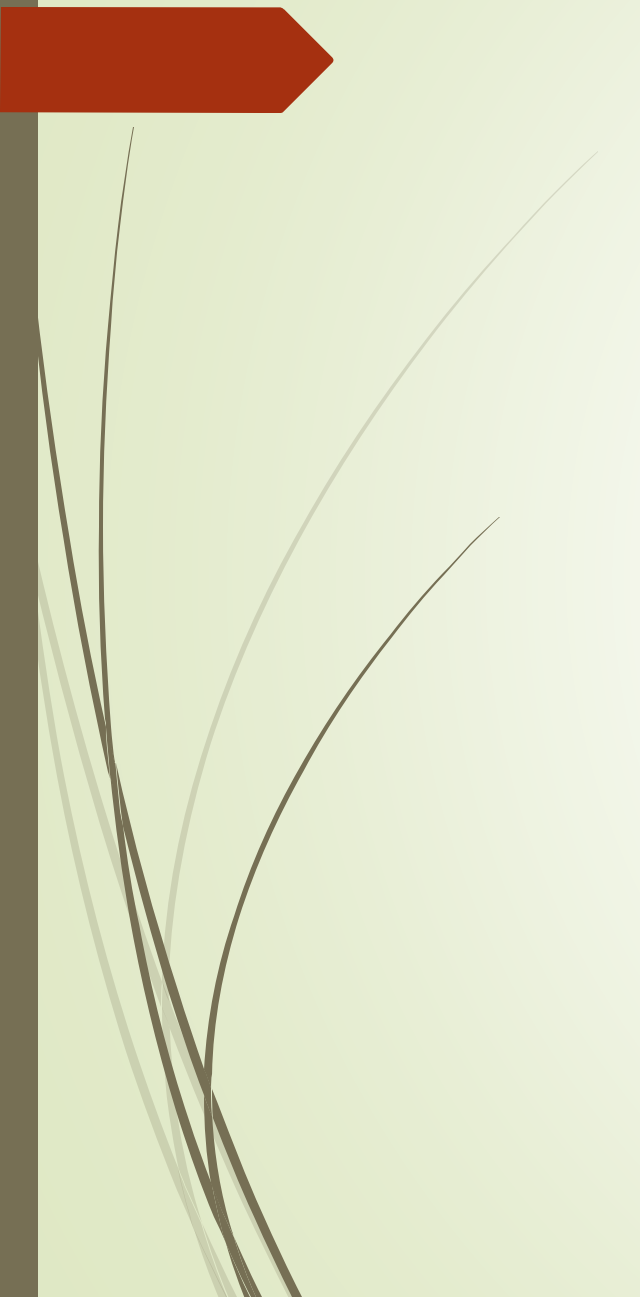

Name: _____

Date: _____

Growth takes time. And you are growing beautifully.

For Grown-ups

- This Adventure Kit is a quiet invitation to notice growth — not just in plants, but in children. You do not need a garden to do this activity. A small pot, a cup, or even a piece of paper can hold a seed. Let the child lead, and let the seed teach patience.
